

CAHRS

Center for Advanced Human Resource Studies

STUDENT CONFERENCE TRAVEL GRANTS

The Cornell Center for Advanced Human Resource Studies (CAHRS) is pleased to continue our policy to support graduate student travel to major professional conferences at which they are presenting papers, for the 2004-2005 academic year. CAHRS will provide up to $550.00 per student (per academic year) to defray travel expenses (subject to ILR School expense reimbursement policies).

Students interested in applying for financial support should provide a letter or email formally requesting support, and containing:

- (1) a brief abstract of the paper to be presented;
- (2) the list of paper authors;
- (3) the name, date, and location of the conference;
- (4) a summary of any CAHRS support that contributed to the research being presented, such as research assistantships, survey preparation, collaboration with CAHRS sponsors, etc.;
- (5) a brief description of the significance of the research for human resource managers in organizations; and
- (6) attach a copy of the conference program brochure.

Once approved, students will be notified of the availability of the support. After attending the conference, students will submit their expense summary and receipts to Pam Stepp for reimbursement.

Please submit requests to Pam Stepp, CAHRS Managing Director, in 187 Ives Hall or by email to PLS8@cornell.edu.